Description :

PDF-918af | On November 10, 1995, the Nigerian military government under General Sani Abacha executed dissident writer Ken Saro-Wiwa along with eight other activists, and the international community reacted with outrage. From the Geneva based International Commission of Jurists (who called the executions a criminal act of state murder) to governments around the world (including the United States) who recalled... *The Open Sore of a Continent: A Personal Narrative of the Nigerian Crisis (W.E.B.
